TRAGEDIES IN STATE SUNDAY FATAL TO TEN

Drownings Outnumber Death in Traffic Accidents

Chicago, July 1.—(AP)—Drownings in an automobile accident caused at least 10 deaths in Illinois over the week end, with the major share of fatalities assessed against water. Opening of the various beaches along Chicago's lake front accounted for two deaths.

Herman Longhelt, 18, died while swimming in a slough near Geneseo. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Longhelt of Indianapolis, Ind., he had been visiting relatives in Geneseo.

Two persons died in separate drownings in the Bloomington area. Leslie Saunders, 14, Roanoke, sank in Miller lake, while a cap-sized boat precipitated Miss Mary Kel 23, Minonk into the waters of Lake Bloomington.

In Pontiac, Phillip Johns, 7, fell from a rowboat into the Vermillion river and drowned.

Two Died in Lake

Two swimmers lost their lives in Lake Michigan here. Arthur Evans, 7, waded beyond his depth at the Division street beach and was drowned. Craps caused the death of Fred Jenkins, 26, at Oakwood beach. Stanley Kallinger, 26, sank in an abandoned quarry hole near Lemont, unnoticed by his companions.

Mrs. Ruth Griffin Foster, 36, and her daughter Ann, 16 months, were killed when their car struck a light post on Chicago's outer drive.

Robert L. Rousch, 14, Rockford Boy Scout, was drowned in Rockford while taking a test for a merit badge in swimming. Dean Lindsay, 18, attempted to save Rousch when the latter suffered a cramp, but nearly lost his own life in his unsuccessful effort.

Helen Willis Moody is Forced to Exert Self

BULLETIN.
Wimbledon, Eng., July 1.—(AP)—Donald Budge, flaming redhead from Oakland, Calif., sprang the biggest upset of the All-England tennis championships today when he upset Henry Wilfred (Bunny) Austin, England's second ranking player, 3-6, 10-8, 6-4, 7-5, to reach the semi-final round.

Using the same terrific backhand with which he had crushed Christian Boususs of France in the fourth round, Budge outlasted Austin in the deuced second set and then took full control of the situation to win and keep America in the running for the title now held by Fred Perry of England.

Budge's victory followed by some hours the unexpected defeat of Sidney Wood of New York, generally rated Perry's most formidable challenger. Wood was beaten by Jack Crawford of Australia, 6-4, 6-3, 6-8, 5-7, 6-1.

Wimbledon, Eng., July 1.—(AP)—The United States placed two players in the quarter-final round of women's singles in the All-England tennis championships today.

Helen Jacobs, American titleholder, swept to an easy 6-2, 6-1 triumph over Mrs. E. C. Peters of Great Britain but Mrs. Helen Willis Moody, former world's titleholder, had to come from behind to turn back Mile. Slegna Cepkova of Czechoslovakia, 3-6, 6-4, 6-2.

Lone Bandit Ran Amuck With Small Calibre Revolver in Dixon Saturday Evening; Got Loot of but 37 Cents

A dangerous bandit, wielding a revolver, apparently of small caliber, terrorized Dixon residents Saturday night at about 9:30 in two sections of the city holding them up and obtaining a total of 37 cents. His first exploit was at Galena avenue near Fifth street when Mrs. Wixon, 1112 Walnut street, summoned police. She said she had been walking south on Galena avenue when she was suddenly accosted by a strange man who ordered her to lay her purse to the sidewalk and make no outcry. He was reported to have flourished a revolver, and grabbing the purse to have run east on Fifth street toward Ottawa avenue, disappearing in the darkness.

Uncle Sam Today Begins to Spend More Than He Has in Any Former Peacetime Year

Words-And Actions Spending Will Exceed Record Set by Pres. Roosevelt

"I accuse the present administration of being the greatest spending administration in peace times, in all our history—one which has piled bureau on bureau, commission on commission, and has failed to anticipate the dire needs of reduced earning power of the people."

Franklin D. Roosevelt speech at Sioux City, Iowa, Sept. 29, 1932.

"I regard reduction in Federal spending as one of the most important issues of this campaign. In my opinion, it is the most direct and effective contribution that government can make to business."

Franklin D. Roosevelt speech at Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 19, 1932.

Expenditures of the government from President Washington to President Taft, 1789-1913, inclusive, total 124 years—$24,521,845,000.00. Expenditures of Franklin D. Roosevelt administration as estimated by him—actual for 1934, and estimated for 1935 and 1936, total three years—$24,206,653,000.00.

NEW IMPORTANT CLUE REPORTED

Disappearance of Illinois-ians in New Mexico May Be Solved

Albuquerque, N. M., July 1.—(AP)—Two unusual clues—a beef bottle in the baggage of an abductor and the narrative of a ranch hand—fitted today into a murder theory by Gov. Clyde Tingley and his investigators into the desert disappearance of four Illinois tourists.

Of the two, the bottle was the strongest "lead" in the mass manhunt that has kept a dozen state police, a score of National Guardsmen and the governor himself virtually sleepless for two weeks.

The bottle was found with charged remnants of the personal effects of Mr. and Mrs. George Lorus, East St. Louis, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Heberer, Duquoin, Ill., missing since they spent the night of May 21 at Vaughn, N. M. Lorus' aversion to beer was such that he declined to stay at a hotel serving intoxicants.

The bottle which came to light just east of Albuquerque late Saturday was of the same type, said the governor, as one found at a spot south of Socorro, N. M., where a slim young man, perhaps their slayer, figured in a wreck with the tourists' automobile. The motor car

Ask Sheriff to Start Hunt for Missing Girl

Sheriff Ward Miller was today asked to institute a search for Catherine Moxon, 16, who was last seen on the back porch at the home of her parents, 121 Walnut ave., at 11:30 o'clock Saturday evening, where she had been left by a Dixon boy who had escorted her home from down town. When she disappeared, the girl, 5 feet 4 inches in height, was wearing a dark blue dress with a few dashes of white and a large red collar.

Brother of Peoria's Alleged Rapist Held in Same Jail Today

Peoria, Ill., July 1.—(AP)—Accused of luring an eight year old boy into indecencies, Victor Thompson, 23, was a prisoner today in the same jail where his brother, Gerald Thompson, 25, awaited trial in the assault and slaying of 19-year-old Mildred Hallmark.

Victor was seized last night as a crowd of about 150 neighbors gathered about his home in threatening manner. Four detectives arrested the youth on a warrant asked by the parents of the boy, who they said accused Thompson of enticing him with a five cent piece to engage in indecent actions.

CARDINAL 63 TUESDAY
Chicago, July 1.—(AP)—George Cardinal Mundelein, Archbishop of the Roman Catholic diocese of Chicago, who will be 63 years old tomorrow, will spend the day quietly at a seminary in Mundelein, Ill., his secretary said today. He is giving instructions at the seminary to his priests, holding a spiritual retreat there.

KILLED IN ROBBERY

DETROIT GIRL GIVES MOTIVE LAWYER DEATH

Companion of Confessed Killer of Dickinson Talks Today

BULLETIN.
Chicago, July 1.—(AP)—The car in which Howard Carter Dickinson, prominent New York attorney, was shot to death near Detroit last week, was found today in a south side garage here, the state's attorney's office announced.

The car was found in a garage at 524 East 63rd street, about a mile from the apartment which police said they believed was rented by William Schweitzer, alias Ferris, alleged confessed slayer of Dickinson, shortly after the killing.

The cushion of the rear seat was covered with blood. The car had two bullet holes in the roof and one in the rear cushion.

The public debt as the 1935 fiscal year ended last night amounted to more than $28,665,000,000. It had not, however, reached the $31,000,000,000 total the President figured on more than a year ago.

Should the government spend $8,520,000,000 this year a new peace-time record for a single year would be established. It would jump above the peak set last year—$7,258,217,000.

In financing this huge outlay Roosevelt counted in part on extension of the $500,000,000 of "nuisance" taxes which were voted by Congress last week. No other taxes were contemplated when he submitted his budget message in January.

The plan is to push the tax-the-wealth levies through by late August if possible. Just what these will produce in revenue is not certain because the rates on inheritances, gifts, corporate and individual incomes—have not been decided. In an outline proposed by Chairman Harrison (D. Miss.) of the Senate finance committee, it was estimated the taxes would amount to $340,000,000 annually.

Government spending, despite the great outlays, has not come up to presidential estimates. Roosevelt, in shaping budgetary plans for the 1935 fiscal year, figured on putting out $8,581,000,000 for old-line and new deal programs. The actual expenditure thus far—the books have not been finally tallied—runs to $7,258,217,000. He expected a deficit of $4,869,000,000. The latest figure shows a deficit of $3,472,347,000.

Recent Newcomer to Dixon Attempts Suicide Saturday

Mrs. Lillie Wilson, aged 62, residing in the Law apartment on Everett street, west of Galena avenue, attempted suicide Saturday evening shortly after 10 o'clock, slashing her throat with a safety razor blade. Her husband left the apartment about 10 o'clock to place a telephone call and upon his return, found Mrs. Wilson lying on the floor in a pool of blood. Police were summoned and the woman was rushed to the hospital in an ambulance.

The family moved to Dixon recently and Mr. Wilson is employed at the Dixon state hospital. Reports from the hospital today were to the effect that the woman would recover in the event that complications do not develop. She was thought to have been despondent over the condition of her health.

Both of the shots, the one through the body, the other through the head, the medical examiner said, "would cause death in less than a minute. He couldn't have fired one shot and lived long enough to shoot the second time. The shot through his head was fired from the left."

He added that he understood

Dr. Kallman said he believed the shot through the chest was fired first, but that the direction in which it passed through the body indicated that "Dickinson couldn't have reached around that far in that direction to fire it."

"Both of the shots, the one through the body, the other through the head," the medical examiner said, "would cause death in less than a minute. He couldn't have fired one shot and lived long enough to shoot the second time. The shot through his head was fired from the left."

Belittler Dead

Budapest, Hungary, July 1.—(AP)—Field Marshal Arthur Arz von Straussburg, last chief of staff of Austro-Hungarian forces in the World War died in army hospital today. He was 78.

At the peak of his career General Arz von Straussburg led a great offensive against the Italians in the autumn of 1917. His troops were among those which captured Brest-Litovsk from the Russians in 1918.

He belittled American aid to Italian forces in the summer of 1918. Upon announcement that an American force was being sent to the Italian front, he was quoted by the Neue Freie Presse of Vienna as saying he did not believe the Americans with their "fastidious habits" and lack of war experience, would make up to the Allies the loss of trained Russian soldiers.

Dickinson was not left-handed. Dr. Kallman said he found no marks which showed that Dickinson had struggled before his death and added:

To Make Death Certain
"The second shot, through the head, probably was fired to make death certain."

Recorder's Judge Christopher E. Stein postponed for 48 hours a hearing on a habeas corpus writ sought by Ferris when McCrea told the court he would issue a murder warrant within 24 hours.

The three girls, Jean Miller, Loreta Jackson and Florence Jackson, arrested in a Port Wayne, Ind., hotel with Ferris, will be detained only as material witnesses, McCrea

Highway Robbery!

Kansas City, July 1.—(AP)—James A. Reed, former Democratic U. S. Senator from Missouri, classes the President's tax program with burglary and highway robbery.

Further, he said in an interview here, it violates the principles of the Declaration of Independence and, if it becomes effective, will bring economic chaos.

Reed, notable for many attacks on Roosevelt's program and formerly for his vigorous opposition to President Wilson's League of Nations program, was confident, however, that the plan will be defeated.

SHANK'S THIRST PROVES UNDOING

Desire to Imbibe Three Kegs of Beer Lands Him at Vandalia

Laval Shank of this city, who was found guilty by a jury in the county court last week on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, from a sentence for which he was enjoying his liberty under bond, faced another serious charge over the week end, as a result of Frank Tyne apprehending him Saturday night about 10 o'clock and delivering him to the police station where he preferred a charge of obtaining goods by false pretense.

Shank had gone to the Tyne and Gitt warehouse Saturday night and giving an assumed name, succeeded in obtaining three kegs of beer. It was alleged. The proprietors were not present at the time and when the incident was reported, Mr. Tyne set out in search of the stranger and found Shank and a few friends assembled about one of the kegs of beer near the lumber yards west of Peoria avenue. The guests lost no time in departing from the scene, but Tyne took Shank directly to the police station, where he was locked up until Sunday morning when he charge was preferred.

Yesterday, Shank was delivered to the county jail, his hearing having been continued until July 6.

In the meantime, Shank's bondsman, Richard McVey reported to the police that he would not be responsible for Shank's action, which prompted his delivery to the county jail. This morning Shank was taken before Judge William Leech in the county court where he was sentenced to serve one year at the state work farm at Vandalia and pay a fine of $200 and costs on the assault charge. The court ordered that he stand committed at the state farm until he fine and costs are paid.

MINERS' STRIKE AGAIN POSTPONED FOR 30 DAYS

Union President Rescinded Order He Issued Saturday

Washington, July 1.—(AP)—With a strike call to bituminous coal miners postponed for another 30 days, backers of the Guffey bill devoted themselves today to obtaining quick action on this measure to regulate the industry with a "little NRA."

The bill is expected to emerge from the house ways and means committee some time this week. Senator Guffey (D-Pa.) said that as soon as the house takes action, he will call the bill up for debate in the senate.

The United Mine Workers is eager to see the bill passed. The workers hold it would stabilize the industry and permit employers to comply with the U. M. W. demands for a 30-hour week and a 10 per cent pay raise. One large group of operators supports the bill. On the other hand another segment of the industry, mostly southern operators, opposes it strenuously. These operators contend it would mean loss of business and employment because prices to the consumer would increase to the point of discouraging purchases.

John L. Lewis, president of the union, called off a strike, scheduled for this morning. Lewis had issued the strike call Saturday but when the government intervened, he postponed it 30 days under wages and conditions heretofore existing.

Though the operators have not yet accepted this truce, persons familiar with the industry predicted they would do so.

The Guffey measure is on the "must" list of legislation favored by Roosevelt. Opponents plan to challenge its constitutionality quickly if it is passed.

Over Seven Inches of Rain Fell Upon Dixon During Month of June

Rainfall in Dixon for the month of June totaled 7.36 inches, a report of the Schuck & Bates weather station here revealed today. A light shower early this morning started July's precipitation record off with a fall of .02 inches.

The rainfall for June, normally totals about 3 inches, this year's total doubling the normal record. A cloudburst in the vicinity of Amboy and Grand Detour last night added, it is believed, another couple of inches to the already excessive rainfall for the year to the present time. Farmers were complaining today that low lands are so wet that weeds and grass have gotten a strong hold and are smothering the corn.

Three Families Back-Track Trail of Pioneers of '70s to Flee Dust of Kansas and Settle in Whiteside

Back-tracking the trail of the pioneers of the '70s, three Kansas families fleeing the dust of the western prairies are adopting new homes in Whiteside county, their travel-motto "Eastward ho!" and their covered wagon a modern truck.

VETERAN I. C. SWITCHMAN IN TRAGIC DEATH

Thrown Under Empty Box Car and Cut in Two Today

Charles Ruggles, veteran Illinois Central brakeman, was instantly killed this morning at 10 o'clock in the Northwestern yards, when his body was cut in two by the wheels of an empty box car from which he had been thrown. The switch crew, of which he had been a member for almost 35 years, was picking up five empty box cars on the old piano factory siding in the west end of the Northwestern yards when the tragedy occurred.

Mr. Ruggles had climbed to the top of the last car to the west before the switch engine was coupled to the string.

The coupling device of the car on which he stood had evidently been tampered with for when the engine was attached to the cars, the car pulled away from the string and rolled west on the side track. He attempted to stop the car by applying the hand brake before it collided with a single flat car which stood a short distance away. He was unsuccessful in stopping the car and when it struck the flat car he was thrown between the two, one wheel of the box car passing over the middle of his body severing it.

Had to Raise Car.
Joseph McIntyre and Terry McGaw, members of the switch crew saw his pitch from the top of the box car and as soon as possible hurried to the scene, to find the body pinned beneath the trucks. It was necessary to jack up the end of the car before the body could be extricated and removed.

Mr. Ruggles, who was born in New York state, Dec. 3, 1871, coming to Amboy in his boyhood, had been in the employ of the Illinois Central for about 46 years. For the past 35 years he had been a member of the switch crew in the Dixon yards. He is survived by his widow, one daughter Charlotte Lou, at the home, 911 Highland avenue; one sister, Mrs. Florence Franks and three brothers, Orville, Edward and Albert, all of this city.

He was a member of Friendship lodge No. 7, A. F. & A. M., Dixon Council No. 7, Nachusa Chapter No. 56, Dixon Commandery No. 21, Knights Templar, and of the Freeport Consistory.

The body was removed to the Jones funeral home, where an inquest will be conducted by Coroner Frank M. Banker Tuesday morning.

Funeral services will be conducted Wednesday afternoon from the family residence at 1:30 and from the First Christian church at 2 o'clock. Rev. James A. Barnett officiating. Interment will be in Oakwood.

Roosevelt Beaten in Utilities Fight in House, 216 to 146

Washington, July 1.—(AP)—President Roosevelt's request for legislation to abolish "unnecessary" utility holding companies by 1942 was turned down by the house.

Climaxing one of the most bitter legislative disputes in recent years, the vote, 216 to 146 against the president's wishes, was studied for its reflection of his present control over the house.

It was not a straight-out test, however, as no roll call vote was taken. Administration supporters contended more votes for the president would have been obtained if a record had been kept.

later was abandoned in Dallas, Tex. Buddy Nicholls, the ranch hand, told officers he heard a car approach his camp, near the spot where the tourists' burned belongings were found, about 11 P. M. the night of May 22. He thought little about it at the time, he said, but remembered the date because it was his first night on his present job.

Searchers placed emphasis on the cowhand's story as it cut down the time element involved in the trip of the Lorient car.

Detroit Girl—

Meanwhile detectives, admittedly bewildered by the bizarre accounts Ferris and his companions gave, sought today to develop a motive from Ferris' stories. One that Dickinson drew a gun as they rolled dice in the car and was shot in a scuffle; another that the attorney drew the gun when he (Ferris) stopped the car in a lonely Rouge park at the girls' request, and a third that Dickinson fired one shot through his head to take his own life and the second was fired as Ferris grabbed for the weapon.

Denied Robbery
Ferris contended through the questioning that robbery was not the motive. The police had said previously they were informed Dickinson, in Detroit to investigate a claim against the William H. Yawkey estate, which he represented, carried a large sum of money when he left his hotel at 9 P. M. last Wednesday.

His bullet pierced body was found at Daybreak Thursday in a lonely Rouge park drive. It was several hours before identification was made by Charles Evans Hughes, Jr., New York Attorney and cousin of Dickinson, from his watch and other articles found in his pockets.

Although police were inclined to accept robbery as a motive for the slaying, Prosecutor McCrea, who personally directed questioning of Ferris and the three girls, declared he was by no means convinced that theory was correct.

Tremendous Crowd Throngs
Dixon for Close of Dist.
American Legion MeetingsParade & Fireworks
Saturday Spectacular Features of Day

Twelve resolutions were framed by the thirteenth district American Legion convention for presentation at the state convention in Quincy in August, at the closing business session of the convocate here, Saturday afternoon. The meeting was climaxed by an address by department commander Paul G. (Army) Armstrong who discussed the menace of illegally entered aliens and their effect on juvenile delinquency.

Following the meeting, at 3:30 p. m., a monster parade and its pageantry of smartly dressed bands, ingenious floats and columns of uniformed Legionnaires moved through flag-bedecked Dixon streets with blinding of red, white and blue over store facades and pennants draped above the pavement. In the evening one of the largest crowds of people ever assembled in Dixon, a throng of over 10,000, crowded the south bank of Rock River and the Galena and Peoria avenue bridge promenades to witness a fireworks spectacle of bombs and colored fire set-pieces displayed on the north shore, the first of its kind witnessed here for years.

Resolutions Proposed
The Legionnaires' resolutions agreed upon for submission to the state convention were as follows:

(1) A vote of thanks to Dixon, its citizenry, Post No. 12, and officials for their generous hospitality and successful convention.

(2) Appointment of World War veteran caretakers for the several armories now under construction throughout the nation.

(3) Opposition to any change in official Legion caps and uniforms.

(4) Dues remain the same.

(5) That it be optional for any member of the Legion to be a member of FIDAC or any other internationalist organization.

(6) Opposition to the World Court or any foreign alliance whatsoever.

(7) That Leonard Applequist, Chief de Gare of the 40 and 8 be recommended for office of department commander with special recommendation by Post No. 12, Dixon.

(8) That official union labor be demanded for Legion publications.

(9) That provision be made for paying transportation expenses of officials to national conventions.

(10) That firing squads be authorized for the burial services of veterans.

(11) That a dues increase of $1.00 to $1.25 be considered.

(12) Aid be tendered to Legionnaires in good standing who have paid dues necessary to receive financial or other aid.

Decried Illegal Aliens
Commander Armstrong in his inspiring address said every piece of legislation passed for the veteran has originated with the Legion. Membership campaigns should be unnecessary, he claimed. He declared it was a creditable feat that legislation for disabled veterans has been started in the Legion, and that if it had been possible for all legislation projected by the Legion to have been passed, the organization would be the most active civic group in the country.

Continuing his talk by opening the subject of juvenile delinquency he said:

"The biggest menace to America is not communism, but juvenile delinquency. Although communism is a grave danger, unemployment is causing a large part of it and this can be eradicated by the Legion's leisure time program, to occupy youth."

"Juvenile delinquency is fostered by illegal aliens in the nation. There are 16,000,000 aliens in the United States," he said. "12,000,000 are heads of families unemployed and receiving relief; 1,500,000 are illegal aliens. The danger lies in the crime records of illegal aliens."

He pointed out Bruno Richard Hauptmann as the most conspicuous example.

Hold Our Jobs
"They hold the jobs needed by our citizens yet it is not possible under our present system to expel them. This should be remedied by a registration law, and plan to force their naturalization within a certain time limit, or expel them."

The parade and fireworks brought out nearly every Dixon citizen. Bands in the line of march with their jaunty leaders blared martial airs as they strutted down the thoroughfare. The St. Charles band, Rochelle Municipal band, Dixon Municipal band, Dixon Knights Templar drum and bugle corps, Dixon State Hospital band, Sterling band and drum and bugle corps, the Villa Park band, Rochelle drum and bugle corps, Erie high school band, and two Rockford bands were in the mammoth procession. It wended its way up Second street to Crawford avenue thence over to First street and down First westward to Peoria avenue, and across the bridge to the high school athletic field.

Prizes Awarded
The St. Charles post's drum and bugle corps was awarded first place in class A, with the Rockford post's entry second, in the drum corps contest at the high school athletic field. The Villa Park corps, only entrant in class B, was awarded first prize in its division.

Outstanding among drum and bugle corps entered in the parade, but not taking part in the contest, was the Sons of Legion organization from Rochelle. A special exhibition was given by the Rochelle corps, composed of boys under 16 years of age, at the athletic field, as was a drill by the Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary drill team of Dixon.

REAL ESTATE IS WAKING UP SAYS CHICAGO EXPERT

Says Dealers in Property are Again Beginning to Feel Human

Chicago, July 1.—(AP)—Real estate dealers in Chicago, described today by Hugh Croxton, chairman of the brokers division of the real estate board, as having been "more calm than the doldrums for four years" are once more assuming important proportions.

"Business for the real estate man has starting coming through the office door once more," Croxton said, "and while there isn't a boom, it's so much better than it was we're beginning to feel human."

The best index to conditions, he said, was that insurance companies, estate trustees and similar financial sources again are making loans in what he described as "reasonable amounts" on real estate. The most recent returns to this field was the Bankers Life Company, Des Moines, Ia., insurance firm, after four years of absence.

Launch Exchange.
Only last week a newly-organized exchange was launched by the real estate board. Planned along the lines of a commodity exchange, more than a hundred members have listed several hundred properties for sale, Croxton said.

Outside the Chicago area, a 300-home building project was scheduled to get under way in Whiting and Robertsdale, Ind., this week.

Privately financed by banks in the Calumet industrial area, it was made necessary through an actual shortage of living quarters said Waldo B. Jennings, president of the Whiting Chamber of Commerce. A survey disclosed more than 3,000 employees in the five largest Whiting manufacturing plants were forced to live elsewhere because no modern homes were available, Jennings said.

The total cost is estimated at $1,500,000 with individual homes of New England Colonial or Georgian design ranging in price from $5,500 for a five-room dwelling to $10,000 for a six-room two bath establishment.

New Loop Building.
As for Chicago's loop district, a new office building at the southeast corner of Jackson and LaSalle streets will be erected by Northwestern University. The building, 16 stories high, will cost approximately $2,000,000. A considerable portion has been leased to an insurance company. Work will be started January 1, 1936, university officials said.

Real estate transfer figures compiled recently showed increases ranging from 50 to 600 per cent over similar figures a year ago. Trust deeds and mortgages filed here totaled $20,212,589, including HOLC mortgages of $1,432,560 compared to $3,451,892 the same week of 1934. Transfers aggregated $2,330,336 against $1,423,835, building permits $182,000 against $59,400.

Forreston Wedding Event of Friday

Forreston, Ill., June 29.—Marie Ione Meyers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Meyers of Forreston, was united in marriage Friday to Samuel Jay Thomas, Oregon. The ceremony was performed at 10 a. m. by the Rev. Edwin J. Johnson in the Lutheran church parsonage here.

Robert Meyers, brother of the bride, and Miss Ida Beuth attended the couple.

Mrs. Thomas, a graduate of Forreston high school in the class of 1914, has been a teacher in rural schools in this community.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas will reside on a farm three miles west of Oregon.

LEGION MEETS WEDNESDAY
Members of Dixon post No. 12 (Inc.), American Legion are urged to remember that next Wednesday night a regular meeting will be held. Nominations for officers are in order and a hectic battle is in prospect to find a worthy successor to Walter M. Smith as commander; and for successors to the other officers of post No. 12.

A checkup of 2700 male applicants for free lodging at the Corning, N. Y., police station showed that fewer than 8 per cent were then or ever had been married.

A FRIEND
Joseph Fort Newton

OS. H. Parker, the famous minister of the City Temple in London, had no children of his own. It was the one great regret of his life, for his love of children just stopped short of idolatry. One of his best friends was a little American girl who lived across the street from the Temple. She used to play in his study while he worked, climbing a winding stairway leading to the choir.

They were great friends, the famous preacher and the little girl. If he went away, he wrote her the most fantastic letters, with all sorts of funny pictures drawn on the margins of the paper. The little girl grew up to be a beautiful and brilliant woman, who wrote a number of widely-read stories under the pen-name of John Oliver Habbes. In one of her stories she wrote these words:

"Oh, the comfort, the indescribable comfort of feeling safe with a person; having neither to weigh our thoughts nor to measure our words, but pour them right out just as they are, chaff and grain together, knowing that a faithful hand will take and sift them, keep what is worth keeping, and with the breath of kindness blow the rest away."

It is a perfect description of a friend—one with whom we can think aloud, blurt out anything in our midst without restraint or fear, knowing that if it is true it will be treasured, and if it is foolish it will be forgotten and blown away.

How could we live without a few such dear, understanding friends, who love us in spite of our faults and follies, and who believe in ourselves? They forgive our stupidities, they chasten our vanities, they keep life sweet and sane.

If such friends are few they are precious beyond price. They are easy to please, but hard to satisfy, since by their love they rebuke us and by their faith they insist that we be and do our best.

Blessed is the man who has one real friend, who loves him well enough to listen to his heart-beat and is wise enough to tell him the truth!

Capital Wedding

Two experts on the subject of international relations turned their hands to domestic relations today when Grace Roper, above, daughter of Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper, was married to Dr. Frank Bohn of New York, like his bride-to-be a specialist on economic problems. A European honeymoon will follow their wedding at the Roper home in Washington.

Marion Reigle Wed In Simple Ceremony

Saturday afternoon at the parsonage to Grace Unitide Evangelical church, the pastor, Rev. A. D. Shaffer, received the marriage vows of Miss Marion Reigle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Granville Reigle of Palmyra, in the quiet ceremony uniting her in wedlock to Cecil E. Saunders, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred N. Saunders of Palmyra.

The bride was a charming picture in her white evelite lace gown. She carried white roses. She was attended by Mrs. Paul Reigle as matron of honor who wore a pretty pink crepe gown and carried roses of the same color. Paul Reigle, brother of the bride, attended the groom as best man.

After the marriage of these two well known and highly esteemed young people, a reception which was largely attended, was held at the beautifully decorated home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Saunders for the newlyweds, who later left on a wedding journey. They will make their home in Palmyra. Many friends join in wishing them happiness.

Sterling Girl Is Bride Rochelle Man
Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Flora Bartlow of Sterling, to Charles Farnham of Rochelle, which took place Thursday at 8 p. m. at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Bartlow, 1102 Second avenue, Sterling. The service was read by the Rev. W. O. Godden, pastor of Fourth M. E. church, Sterling.

The bride wore a white lace gown over white satin, and her sister, Miss Alice Bartlow, maid of honor, wore a blue silk celanese frock over satin. Both carried arm bouquets of white roses, lilies of the valley, and baby breath. Ralph Farnham served his brother as best man.

A buffet supper for twenty-five guests followed the ceremony. After a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Farnham will be at home in Rochelle where the bridegroom is in business with his father.

Young Men's Class To Hold Picnic For Mrs. Shawger's Class

Lowdens Opened Beautiful Home At Garden Tea

On Friday the Oregon Woman's Club entertained members of Women's clubs from a large radius, including guests from the Dixon Woman's Club, the Ashton Club, the Rochelle Woman's Club, the Polo Woman's Club, at a garden tea at the lovely estate of Hon. Frank O. Lowden and wife, Sinnissippi, on the Rock River. The guests numbered between four and five hundred women, all of whom had a delightful afternoon despite the fact that Old Jupiter Pluvius was in one of his most belligerent moods and let everyone know in northern Illinois and sundry places in Iowa and Wisconsin. One of the features of the afternoon was the Style Revue sponsored by the Kathryn Beard Shoppe of this city, and it was right in the middle of the style show that big, bold raindrops came down and down and down, so that mannequins, guests, everyone hurried for the shelter of the porch and doorways. The Lowdens opened their beautiful home for the large gathering and the afternoon was voted a success after all. A few hands of bridge were played, but the program of the entire afternoon was changed. The daughters of the house, and their gracious mother, assisted the guests in getting to their cars in the downpour holding umbrellas over the visitors so that they would not get wet. Their hospitality was greatly appreciated.

Meeting of Bradford 4-H Club
The Bradford 4-H Club met at the home of their leader Mrs. Orno Kersten, June 27. All members were present and one guest. A piano solo was given by Fern Butler and Elmore Mershon recited a poem. A demonstration was given on knotting thread, running stitch and fastening the thread. Nearly all have finished their slips and will begin work on their dresses at the next meeting. Recreation was enjoyed by all on the lawn. The next meeting will be July 8.

Miss Myrtle Clark of the Newberry store is enjoying a vacation from her duties, and is visiting relatives in Kentucky, her home state.

Mt. Carroll Girl Bride Lanark Man

Miss Velma Sack, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sack of Mount Carroll, became the bride of Clarence Van Buskirk, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Van Buskirk of Lanark, at 9:30 a. m. Saturday, Rev. G. T. Nesmith, pastor of Mount Carroll M. E. Church, officiated.

The bride wore a floor length gown of white Chantilly lace over taffeta, a lace trimmed veil, and carried white roses and white sweet peas. She was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Vivian Sack, the bride's sister, wore a floor-length gown of fuchsia flowered chiffon with white accessories and corsage bouquet of Talisman roses and white sweet peas. Clinton Plock, cousin of the groom, attended him as best man.

Mrs. Lydia Hines and Mrs. Ada Bashaw served a wedding breakfast at the conclusion of the ceremony. Members of the bridal party, parents of the bride and groom, and the Rev. and Mrs. Nesmith were guests.

The bride and groom have left for a short honeymoon trip, the bride wearing a knitted suit of sunrose shade with white accessories for traveling. They will reside on the Van Buskirk farm.

The bride is a graduate of Thomson community high school and Western Illinois State Teachers' college at Macomb. She has been teaching in the Ferrin and Mount Carroll grade schools.

Mr. Van Buskirk is a graduate of Lanark community high school and Dixon Business college.

Picnic Dinner for Bible Class and Election Officers

The hospitable country home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fredricks was the scene of a happy gathering on Thursday when Mrs. Fredricks was hostess to the members of the Women's Bible class of the Methodist Episcopal church. A picnic dinner was enjoyed by those present at one o'clock.

A short business meeting was held during the afternoon during the afternoon, Mrs. E. G. Brenner was in charge of the devotions. The new class officers for the coming two years were then elected:

President . . . Mrs. Geo. Carpenter

Secretary . . . Mrs. W. E. Whitson

Assistant Secretary . . . Mrs. Chas. Crombie

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Ripley

No program had been prepared, but Mrs. A. I. Hardy in her interesting manner gave a book review entitled "Let the Hurricane Roar". This was greatly enjoyed by all present.

There were 36 members and 20 guests of class members present. Those from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brewster and Mrs. Bobby of North Hollywood, Calif., and Miss Pearl Sims of Marcus, Iowa, who were guests at the W. H. Brewster home.

The next meeting will be held on Sept. 26th with Mrs. Edward Dawson as hostess.

ENJOY PLEASANT VISIT IN ST. LOUIS

Mrs. Kehrt who is employed by Atty. Hannesken, will join her husband soon.

Wallpaper Blends With Built-In Effects

Many interesting and harmonious combinations may be obtained by the use of wallpaper in keeping with furnishings and woodwork in a living room. Wallpapers are available to harmonize with painted wood, stained or lacquered finishes. The use of wallpaper to carry out a period design has been carefully studied by wallpaper manufacturers. A variety of designs, colors, and textures are now available in the new washable papers and are playing a prominent part in many room modernizations.

Sparing Makeup Is Rule For Mature

By ALICIA HART
(NEA Service Writer)

The mature woman ought to use makeup artistically and sparingly and go in for clothes, made of exquisite fabrics and cut on simple lines. She should depend on dignity and charm to make her outstanding, leaving cute, ingenuitous mannerisms, novelty clothes and highly colored cosmetics to the very young.

This doesn't mean, of course, that older women must appear drab and colorless or that they should not try to look as young as possible. It merely means that they must let good taste be their guide and that, instead of being unhappy about their birthdays, they ought to be thankful that each added year brings more knowledge, greater understanding, kindness and more charming manners.

There is no use to worry about small lines and wrinkles that show across your brow and around your throat after you are forty. They really are not serious, provided they are natural, pleasant lines and not ugly furrows, caused by bad temper and selfishness.

Naturally, you should make use of intelligent beauty routines to prevent them as long as possible. However, once you realize some lines are with you to stay, stop the time you spend worrying to reading interesting books to improving your vocabulary and conversational abilities or to doing something nice for someone else.

Pick rouge and lipstick in subtle shades that do not make your skin look coarse. Use very little of each and be careful to leave no rough edges. Pinkish tones generally are lovely with gray and white hair. Nail polish should be pale and eyebrow makeup must be used lightly, if at all.

OBITUARY

MRS. HARRIET STITZEL
Harriet D. Stitzel was born in Sterling, Ill., Sept. 4, 1855, the daughter of Henry Stitzel and Elmina Landis. She spent her early life in and near Sterling, with the exception of the time spent at school in Millersville, Pa. In 1878 she was married to John Stitzel, of Lewistown, Ill. To this union one daughter was born, Stella Beggs.

Left a widow in 1879, she returned to Sterling and Nelson. In 1889 she was married to James B. Stitzel of Nelson. Three children were born to them: Clarence, Velma and Gertrude, the latter passing away in May 1909. Mrs. Stitzel spent 43 years in Nelson where she was active in community work. Since her husband's death in 1931, Mrs. Stitzel has made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Stella Turwilliger in DeKalb. She has enjoyed good health until two months ago which weakened her. Since that time she gradually grew weaker and was confined to her bed for the past month. She passed away early Monday morning, June 24.

She is survived by four children, Clarence M. Stitzel of Canton, Ill., Mrs. Velma Ferris of San Francisco,

INCREASE IN ESTATE TAXES

Secretary Morgenthau of the treasury department told the senate finance committee on April 23 that any cash bonus payment would upset the nation's financial stability unless additional taxes were levied. On being asked to specify, Morgenthau suggested increases in estate taxation sufficient to yield several hundreds of millions a year.It appears that the secretary had been giving the subject of increased estate taxes some study. It also appears that the administration is going to make a drive to levy such taxes, but not to pay the bonus.Estate taxes long have been recognized as legitimate means of raising revenue. The tax is applied when the property passes from its owner, who no longer will use it, to the heir who never had had it. As long as the rule of reason prevails, the principle is not objectionable.In the light of present laws, objection lies not against the principle, but against the multiplicity of governmental vultures that are flying around to seize their shares of the remains. It is not unusual for the government and two or three states to be involved in such seizures.Federal government law, of course, is uniform.
States laws are not, and some of them enable their authorities to go out foraging for whatever may be brought within jurisdiction of their governments through one pretext or another. Each acts without regard to what share other states already may have taken from the estates in question.If we are to reduce the matter to one of confiscation of estates, then the mask should be taken off and things called by their right names.Although the federal government has levied estate taxes, it has adopted the principle of leaving that field of taxation mainly to the states. However, there has been a tendency of late on the part of the states to invade any field that seemed to be fertile for government taxes, and on the part of the federal government to invade any field that was fruitful for states. We all seem to be fair game for both in this free-for-all scramble for tax money.Estate taxes were the subject of new legislation in the Coolidge administration, the proposal to have Washington leave the field to the states having gained some popularity. Chairman Green of the house ways and means committee was in position to thwart the movement, however, and he did so on the ground that some states do not levy estate taxes. Florida was regarded as the outstanding "offender" in this respect. Florida regarded that as an inducement to wealthy persons to come there and spend their declining days. Out of this conflict was evolved a law providing that the estate should have a credit of 80 percent for state inheritance taxes. In the event that there was no state tax, the federal government acquired the entire sum, thus defeating the Florida idea.
There has been no purpose left in any state failing to levy the tax, and our best information now is that Nevada is the only state that has no inheritance tax. Government legislation practically forced the states to act.Although the federal government levies this tax, it leaves a considerable field exclusively to the states by applying an exemption of $50,000 before it begins to operate. It is reliably estimated that only 1.54 percent of all property owners have wealth in excess of $50,000.In 1934 the yield of federal estate tax was $104,000,- 000, about 3 percent of total treasury receipts. State inheritance taxes yield $150,000,000, about 7 percent of all state revenues.Although the New Deal has been an expensive experiment for which the people are going to have to pay, and estate taxes are available to a reasonable extent, President Roosevelt does not put the collections he proposes on that basis. He sets himself up in competition with Huey Long for the share-the-wealth vote. Public comment upon the fact that a large part of the Roosevelt following was getting ahead of him and advancing with Long seems to have spurred Roosevelt to run after his followers.

IT'S THIS WAY

In a booklet on advice to drivers by General Motors is the following concerning passing of cars on a highway:"When we try to pass a car that's going forty miles an hour, it's just the same as if we tried to pass a standing string of cars 126 feet long. In other words, it's like passing eight cars parked bumper to bumper in the road.""If we try to pass one going sixty, it's like trying to pass a line of more than sixteen cars standing in the road and sixteen cars in a row will reach half a block.""This is probably a new idea to most of us. If we kept it in mind, we never would pass a car unless we were sure that there were no oncoming cars for a good long distance ahead."The trouble is that the people who do most of the damage of that kind do not read pamphlets on driving or newspaper editorials."I observe in the news that Frances Robinson, long prominent in the New Deal, lost a gold compact, valued at $600, in Sioux City, yet the New Dealers with whom I associate tell me that I am entitled only to the bare necessities and that what I have accumulated above that should be taken from me for the benefit of the public," says an old dealer who can not understand.There never has been nor never will be freedom when powers of government are lodged in a man or in a group of men.—Herbert Hoover.

THE TWINYMITES

(READ THE STORY THEN COLOR THE PICTURE.)

My, what a band of happy tots, Said Copy, "There are lots and lots of interesting things to see as we hike 'cross the land.""The flowers are blooming here and there, and nature's work is everywhere. The sun is shining overhead. I think it all just grand.""Sure, but the sun is mighty hot, and I'd prefer to find a spot beneath a tree where we can rest," said Duncy, with a frown."This constant walking tires me out. I need a bit of sleep, no doubt. As soon as I can find the proper spot, I'll flop right down.""Oh, there you go," snapped Windy. "Say, why do you have to be that way? We never can find new things, if we sleep all of the while.""Perhaps it is not very kind, but I'm for leaving you behind.
You're hopeless! Why, you tire out ere we've walked a single mile!"This made poor Duncy feel quite cheap. Said he, "Oh, I will try to keep on going till the night comes, but, at least, don't walk so fast.""Now, in the meantime, tots, I think we ought to try to find a drink. A bit of real cold water, I am sure, would help me last.""Ha, ha," laughed Scouty. "That's no task. Just look ahead, is all I ask." The Twynmites did, and saw a stream, from which they all could sip.It didn't take them long to get their fill. Then Copy said, "I'll bet that it would be a lot of fun if we'd all take a dip."Before they had a chance to though, one of the Twynmites shouted, "Oh, look what is coming through the air, and heading right this way.""A rocket! There's a man inside."
"He's waving, now," another cried.
"I guess he's going to land here Gee, this is our lucky day!"Copyright, 1935, NEA Service, Inc.
(The Twynmites meet the Rocket Man in the next story.)brownish or dark brown. The common area of distribution is the face, neck, forearm and hands.Freckles as a rule make their appearance about the sixth or eighth year of life. Once they develop they may persist throughout life or may undergo marked alterations, fading in the winter season and reappear-ing in summer.There is no truly effective way of preventing freckles. Keeping out of the direct sunlight helps, but sunlight is not alone the cause of freckling. Face creams which protect against tanning will in a measure also protect against freckling.The treatment of freckles is neither simple nor very successful.
The application to the skin of peroxide of hydrogen for its bleaching effects is a common practice and may be tried.There are, however, certain so-called freckle removers, lotions and ointments sold freely to the public which depend for their effects upon an excretion of the skin.Most of these compounds contain bichloride of mercury. When they are effective they are so by causing the upper layers of the skin to blister and peel.Naturally this is dangerous, for if the process reaches deeper it threatens to do irreparable injury to the skin. Beside, this treatment is not permanent in its effects.Occasionally, where a single freck-le is conspicuously placed, it may be removed effectively by electrocautery. By and large it is perhaps best to readjust one's mental attitude to freckles, and instead of calling them freckles, consider them as salutations of the sun.

Which Way America? Facts About Crusaders

What Are the Purposes of the Crusaders?

1. To "preserve, protect and defend" the Constitution of the United States and a truly representative form of government.
2. To oppose any violation or distortion of the Constitution to achieve various objectives in our governmental economic and social systems.
3. To fight vigorously any attempts to have the majority of Americans ruled by organized minorities seeking special advantages.
4. To resist any so-called "planned economy" which involves complete control of industry by government and regimentation of the American people.
5. To stand firm against any drift or drive toward Fascism, Communism, or Socialism.
6. To fight for sound national credit, the first requisite of which is confidence in our money—and assurance of a balanced budget.
7. To insist that Government enterprise stimulate and not supplant private enterprise.
8. To Wake Up America so that intelligent thought and action based on experience is exerted to shape the future of our country.

Who Are the Crusaders?

1. The Crusaders are men and women—Democrats, Republicans and Independents—who believe in sound government, and are militant for the rights and liberties guaranteed by the United States Constitution.

2. The Crusaders believe in government of the people, by the people and for the people—not privileged government for any section, class or group.

How Will the Crusaders Operate?

1. Organizations are being formed in all states and in all principal cities to cooperate with national officers in a nation-wide membership campaign.
2. The local Crusader committees will investigate the beliefs and qualifications of all candidates, particularly for Congress, approving in each district stalwart, capable candidates, whether Democratic, Republican or Independent, who are in agreement with The Crusader's American principles.
3. Through continuous discussion and publicity, to stimulate a constant oversight of all public affairs by the American voters so that our representative democracy at all times may be truly representative of majority opinion.

Why Work for the Crusaders?

1. Only majority organization and activity can stop the organized raids on the United States Treasury by minorities which have cost the American people millions of dollars.

2. The Constitution means too much to millions of Americans for the majority to neglect its vigorous defense.

3. Serious mistakes in government laws and trends which will take years to undo can be prevented by a little thoughtful and action in advance of the errors.

4. Through the Crusaders you can participate with millions of your fellow-citizens in keeping our government truly representative.

How You Can Help

1. Join the Crusaders by enrolling as an active member.
2. Talk about The Crusade for Constitutional Liberty to all with whom you are acquainted.
3. Help in the organization and membership campaign of a Crusader Battalion in your own community.

Again—A Call to Action!

A call to action is issued to all men and women who consider themselves Americans, to add their force to the voluntary organization which is militantly opposing all forces destructive to sound government. The Crusaders, having no

Q. How did the U. S. Marshals solve the problem of meeting President Monroe's condition that the population of Illinois be 40,000 before admission to the Union was allowed?

A. There were no more than 30,000 residents at the time but the Marshals counted immigrants as they passed through the country and the quota was made.

Q. Who insisted (1833) that the Chicago harbor be at the outlet of the Chicago River rather than at the mouth of the Calumet River?

A. Jefferson Davis, then a young army engineer and later president of the Confederacy.

Q. For whom was Fort Dearborn named?

A. Secretary of War General Henry Dearborn.

Q. What relation to the painter, James Abbott McNeill Whistler, was Captain John Whistler, commandant of Fort Dearborn?

A. Grandfather.

Q. What did the Indian who killed Captain William Wells at the Fort Dearborn Massacre do after Wells died?

A. He cut out Wells' heart and ate it. This was the greatest tribute

Q. Who were the "Wide Awakes?"

A. Semi-military bodies of young men originally formed in Connecticut as a support of Lincoln in the campaign of 1860.

Q. By what plurality did Lincoln triumph in Illinois in the 1860 presidential campaign?

A. 11,852. 4,743 of this plurality was given in Chicago.

Q. What was George M. Pullman's initial feat in Chicago?

A. The raising of the Tremont House, the city's "skyscraper" four stories high and built of brick. Pullman installed 5,000 jackscrews in the basement. At a signal each of 1,250 men gave each of four screws a half turn. The building rose inch by inch without disturbing the hotel life above.

Q. What important documents of the Chicago Historical Society were consumed in the fire of 1871?

A. City records of great value and the original draft of the Emancipation Proclamation.

Q. When and where was the Rotary Club organized?

A. In Chicago February 23, 1905. The idea was that of a young lawyer, Paul Harris, and it has since spread throughout the world.

Rock Island Woman Placed Under Bonds in Gehant's Court

Mrs. Mildred Carney, Rock Island school teacher, came to Dixon from Woodstock Friday afternoon and reported to Chief of Police J. D. Van Bibber that she was the driver of the car which struck and injured seven-year-old Cecilia Giese Wednesday afternoon on West Everett street. A warrant charging her with leaving the scene of an accident and not having reported the accident, which was sworn out before Justice Grover Gehant by Chief Van Bibber yesterday, was served. The hearing was continued until July 8, at the recommendation of State's Attorney Edward Jones and the woman was placed under bond of $1,000 which was furnished by her brother-in-law, County Treasurer Lester Ebinger of Woodstock, former sheriff of McHenry county.

Three Sent to Jail Under Fines of $25

Ran Hayes and Robert Logan of Peoria were arrested Friday night about 6:30 following an automobile wreck on College avenue and First street. The two young men drove a borrowed car into a yard, tearing down shrubbery and damaging the machine. They were taken before Justice Grover Gehant this morning where Patrolman Clarence Seagen filed charges against both. Logan was charged with operating an automobile while in an intoxicated condition and Hayes with disorderly conduct. Both were assessed fines of $25 and costs and were sent to the county jail for failure to pay the fine.

Dan Timmons of this city was arrested last Saturday at an early hour while creating a disturbance on First street and Peoria avenue and locked up in the city jail. This morning he was sent to the county jail for failure to pay a fine of $25 and costs assessed against him last month.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

CARL HUBBELL, star pitcher of the N. Y. Giants: "Camels are so mild, they never get my wind or ruffle my nerves."

GEORGE BARKER, the former intercollegiate track star: "A cross-country runner has to keep in shape. I've learned one thing about cigarettes—Camels are mild. They don't get my wind, and they never bother my nerves."

GEORGE M. LOTT, JR., tennis star, says: "Camels never take the edge off my condition or get my wind, because they are mild. I understand more expensive tobaccos are used in Camels. That accounts for their mildness!"

SUSAN VILAS, the free-style swimming champion, comments: "I've discovered that Camels are mild. They don't cut down my wind. Camels are full of rich, smooth taste!"

THE MIDNIGHT SUMMONS

"Quiet," whispered Dr. Larrabee, closing the door softly "he's asleep now."

"But how is he? Will he be all right?" asked the worried father.

"He's a sick boy," replied the doctor, "but he's going to get well. It was a vicious attack but we caught it in time. Good thing you telephoned me when you did or it might have been serious."

"Now I'm going to use your telephone again," continued Dr. Larrabee, "and get a nurse. And I want her to call me every day and report."

"Go ahead. I'm certainly glad we have a telephone," said the father.

Not alone for emergencies but for daily use and convenience every home in town or country should have a telephone. Call our Business Office, or any telephone employee will gladly help you place your order.

APPROPRIATIONS BY LEGISLATURE SET NEW RECORD

Exceeds Any Ever Voted by Regular Session of Illinois Assembly

Springfield, Ill., July 1—(AP)—A special session of the 59th general assembly, which ended its six months regular session with sine die adjournment Saturday evening, will be held within a few months.

This became increasingly apparent as the regular session, noted for its deadlocks and filibusters, drew to an end with many things of importance left undone.

The session, it has been learned, will not be held until September at the earliest and may be delayed until November although October is figured by most observers as the month in which Governor Horner will reconvene the assembly.

The regular session disposed of the appropriation features, extended the existence of the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission, supplied funds for relief, increased the school distributive fund $5,000,000 a biennium, reduced automobile license fees, passed several hundred bills for the benefit of municipalities, and acted on many other matters of minor or local importance.

Many Things Undone
It failed, however, to reorganize the school system; to place any constitutional changes on the ballot for the next general election; to redistrict congressionally, senatorially or judicially; to revise the criminal law; to revise the insurance law; to consolidate government departments or to write a workable old age pension law.

In signing the old age pension law Saturday the governor noted, in a public statement, that it failed to comply with provisions requisite for financial assistance from the federal government and that it must be amended before January 1 when it is due to become effective.

Appropriation bills apparently broke all regular session records for authorizing the expenditure of public funds. In a preliminary estimate, house chairman James P. Boyle of Chicago placed the total at $390,167,089.75, including millions for unemployment relief, old age pensions and from the federal government for highway grants.

Budgets Increased
Two years ago the regular session voted $370,538,988.61, which was increased to $442,210,611.49 by the four special sessions.

House and senate committee in many cases increased Governor Horner's Budget figures, which called for an expenditure of $287,200,138 during the biennium, not county relief and pensions.

The regular session—the second to be controlled by the Democratic party since 1914—spent weeks debating unemployment relief and was filibustered for weeks by the Republican minority in behalf of the permanent registration bills.

It was one of the stormiest in recent legislative history and succeeded in accomplishing what it did only after the Democratic majority had been solidified in the house by the Republican filibuster, mined to subside the militant minority. Speaker Devine usually had a constitutional majority of 77 Democratic votes on which he could depend and measures desired by the Democrats, with the exception of a large part of the governor's program, were rushed through despite the protests of Republicans.

"Indefensible Increases"
The Republican house leader, L. M. Green of Rockford, described the appropriations as "tremendously increased," saying:

"Indefensible increases have been made in salaries and numerous employees provided for, in addition to the present long list. Economy, so much needed at this time, has not been the watchword."

Boyle said he house committee restored the ten per cent salary cuts to all state employees getting $100 a month or less and to all union labor employees working for the state.

Boyle listed the appropriations as for the following purposes: executive and miscellaneous, $32,138,025.99; legislative, 1,093,195.83; courts, 2,650,707.21; charitable and penal, 22,318,381.12; education, 51,100,096.81; permanent improvement, 18,888,950; highway construction and maintenance, 107,626,124.73; debt service, 40,231,548; tax refunds, 4,120,000; emergency relief, 54,000,000; old age pensions, 5,000,000; and county and city shares of motor fuel tax, 40,000,000.

Women tend to remember the pleasant experiences of their lives and forget the unpleasant, while men remember the unpleasant and forget the pleasant, according to recent tests.

The fastest-growing tree known is the balsa. The seed is little larger than a pinhead, yet the tree often sprouts to a height of 75 feet and diameter of 25 inches within five years.

England requires every person 16 years of age or older to keep at least one dog. There are between 50 and 60 million dogs in the nation.

There has been a 25 per cent decline in the birth rate of the United States since 1921.

Pity Poor Umpire

Chicago, July 1—(AP)—Pity the poor umpire! His lot, never easy, has been made doubly hard in the last year by the introduction of the high speed camera, which is being used more and more by the newspapers to convey action on the diamond.

Close plays are being reproduced in the newspapers and the result is often embarrassing to the boys who call 'em. For the high-speed camera, unlike the umpire, is never wrong and there are those who are wondering just how long it will be until the instrument is introduced officially into baseball as the final word in making decisions on which protested games hinge.

Track officials already have taken up the high-speed camera as a means of determining the finishes of races in which it is beyond human capabilities to decide correctly the results.

LOUIS MAY GET FIRST CHANCE AT BRADDOCK

Champion Thinks Bout
Would Draw Million Dollar Gate

New York, July 1—(AP)—If James J. Braddock has his way, Louis, New Negro sensation, will get the first whack at his newly won world's heavyweight title.

Braddock believes a fight with Louis next summer would draw the nearest approach to a million dollar gate since the lush days of Tex Rickard and Jack Dempsey.

Joe Gould, the new champ's busy little manager, added: "Million dollar gates are what Braddock and Co. Ltd. are interested in."

Gould and Braddock figure Louis will knock Max Schmeling out of the picture in September and then repeat the performance in October on the blushing bridegroom, Max Baer, thus clearing the decks for a "natural" between Louis and Braddock next summer.

Rake In Profits
Right now Braddock and Gould are going through the delightful experience of raking in profits from all directions.

"We will make $200,000 in the next 12 months without pulling on a glove," said Gould. "So why fight? Anyway, New York has had two big heavyweight fights this year and may get two more. That's enough."

Braddock is rehearsing a vaudeville skit in which he will be co-starred with his wife. He is sought for exhibitions, paid thousands for endorsements and there is talk of a Hollywood engagement.

The other day when Gould nonchalantly demanded—and got—$10,000 for lending Braddock's name to a product, the champ, with his ever present sense of humor, said: "That's a laugh. Why a year ago if we had walked up Broadway with placards on our backs we'd have been lucky to get $3."

Yesterday's Stars
(By The Associated Press)
Pete Fox, Tigers—Led assault on Browns with home run in each game, double and five singles, batting in nine runs.

Tony Freitas, Reds—Limited the Cardinals to four hits to win duel with Dizzy Dean.

Cliff Bolton, Senators—Tripled in twelfth to drive in run that beat Yankees.

George Watkins, Phillies—Smashed home run, three doubles and two singles in double header against the Braves.

Monte Pearson, Indians, and Vernon Kennedy, White Sox—Former allowed six hits, latter seven; each fanned six as teams divided twin bill.

Mel Ott, Giants—Clouted homer in each game, driving in six runs, in double victory over Dodgers.

Eric McNair, Athletics—Led attack on Red Sox with four hits scored decided run.

Circuit Racing
Season Opening
Commences Today

Toledo, O., July 1—(AP)—The reinsmen were ready to drive their trotters and pacers onto Fort Miami track today at the closing of the 1935 grand circuit racing season.

Today's program included the Peninsula Farm $1000 purse for three-year-old trotters; the Toledo Blade purse for 15 pacers; the Seccor Hotel for two-year-old trotters and the National Hay Dealers association 21-17 pace.

The initial meeting will continue through July 6, with both afternoon and night events scheduled for the holiday Thursday.

Thursday night the $4000 Nation Stake for three-year-old trotters will be run off as the first test of the year for candidates for the $40,000 Hambleton Stake at Goshen, N. Y., in August.

MANY BILLS ARE DELAYED WEEKS BY ENGROSSING

Several Hundred Measures Passed by Assembly are in Committee

Springfield, Ill., July 1—(AP)—The Chicago handbook licensing bill was received today by Governor Horner from the Senate and was sent to Attorney Otto Kerner for an opinion as to its constitutionality.

With no form sheets available from which to figure the future of the bill licensing handbooks on horse races in Chicago, speculation was rife about the state House today on Governor Horner's probable action.

Tips of all kinds abound but the governor, who has not received the bill, was maintaining silence.

Horner has ten days in which to act on the bill after he receives it from the Senate's committee on enrolling and engrossing. This committee, and it is also true of the same committee in the House, is swamped with the several hundred bills passed during the last two weeks.

Bills sometimes remain in the enrolling and engrossing committee for several weeks after the legislative adjourns.

To Attorney General
When the handbook bill reaches the governor, he will then send it to the Attorney General who will advise him on its constitutionality.

If he signs the bill it will become effective immediately. If he files it with the Secretary of State without his signature it will become effective immediately upon that action. The only other course of action will be final, as the assembly has adjourned sine die and can not return to act on the veto.

Bills passed with a constitutional majority of 77 House votes and 26 Senate votes became effective on the following July 1 if the governor has acted upon them. The Supreme Court has held, however, that in cases in which the governor has not had his ten days in which to act by July 1 they become effective on the day on which he signs or files them. The handbook bill is but one of several hundred to which this ruling applies.

OSBORN SHOWS
TIME ABILITY

Ten Years Ago He Was Standing
Jump Champ

St. Louis, July 1—(AP)—It's been ten long years but to Harold Osborn they're apparently brought even more spring and vigor than back in 1925 when he was the high jumping, national decathlon and Olympic decathlon champion.

In an indoor meet that year, the bespectacled University of Illinois star stood beside a cross-bar and, without a run, lifted himself 5 feet 5 1/2 inches to tie the standing high jump record established in 1913 by Goehring.

There the record stood until yesterday when the lean jumper appeared in an exhibition at the Ozark A. A. U. track carnival. The veteran tensed his muscles, seemed to throw off the weight of ten years and knifed his way over the bar at 5 feet 6 inches for an unofficial world's record.

Previously, Osborn flashed down the paths in a running high jump exhibition and cleared the bar at 6 feet 6 inches, equalling the best mark in his prime days.

It was far from Walter's world record of 6 feet 9 1/2 inches, but it served to give the track world notice that Osborn must be included in the favorites—for the event at the National A. A. U. meet at Lincoln, Neb., Wednesday and Thursday. The standing high jump, an event which has fallen into disuse, will not be contested.

Jack Torrance, world's shot put record holder, tossed the 16-pound ball 55 feet 8 1/2 inches for the best heave ever made on American soil. His world mark of 57 feet 1 inch was made at Oslo, Sweden.

Glenn Cunningham, taking it easy as Glenn Dawson and Johnny Wolff failed to press him methodically raced 1000 meters in 2:27.3, four seconds slower than his own world's record.

TEXAN CAPTURES
SINGLES TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIP

Chicago, July 1—(AP)—The national intercollegiate singles tennis title, California property for the past two years, went to Texas today in possession of Wilbur Hess of Rice Institute.

Hess, seeded first and the favorite from the start, completed his conquest at the expense of Leonard Patterson, tall, game youngster from California Tech, on the clay courts at Northwestern University 6-1, 6-3, 6-3. His triumphs, achieved after a week of play, broke the two-year California domination manned

BEGIN HERE TODAY
KATHARINE STRIKES HER 20 and beautiful, her emotions to rule when she marries Michael. He is a rich, young riding instructor who comes with a title and fortune. Katharine's father is a rich and her stepmother is a snobbish.

The night following his marriage Michael is injured in a racing accident and when he regains consciousness his memory is impaired. He forgets the marriage and Katharine believes he has deserted her. She goes to New Mexico to forget. Wandering off for an early morning stroll Katharine becomes lost in the desert.

Michael arrives to explain and beg forgiveness. He hires a plane to search for Katharine. After a long hunt she is rescued. Michael takes her to his home and Katharine believes he has deserted her. She goes to New Mexico to forget. Wandering off for an early morning stroll Katharine becomes lost in the desert.

Back home DR. JOHN RAY, in love with Katharine, learns of her marriage from ZOE PARKER who tries to comfort him. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XLVI
KATHARINE WAS STRUGGLING out of a dream. It was not a pleasant one. Michael was in danger—horrible danger—and she was calling to him, calling—

When she awoke there was a lamp lighted in the room and beside the narrow bed a nurse sat her shadow silhouetted against the far wall.

"Well, hello, you're better dear!" the nurse said.

Katharine felt her brow: it was cool. She was in one of her own thin gowns. Her hair had been brushed. There was a thick tumbler, half-filled with water, on the table beside the bed. She closed her eyes, remembering with a shudder the blank sky and the desert sand under her feet and a bird wheeling.

"Now, my dear, you're safe and sound, and the young man clean out of his head about you," said the nurse in a gentle murmur. "It isn't every day a young lady is rescued from death in that way. I think it's so romantic, my dear. But you must rest now and not talk, and tomorrow you'll be fine."

"What young man?" Katharine's lips were cracked and parched, but she could form the words. Frank Millard, probably. It would be hard to be unkind to Frank Millard if he had saved her from the jaws of death.

She was thinking this when the nurse said in a sprightly tone, "Why, Mr. Heatheroe, of course your husband."

Katharine thought the dream must be going on and on and that the nurse and this conversation were part of it. But she felt of the coarse, clean sheet; that was real.

Her gown was real, too, and so was the nurse's broad, kindly face.

"Mr.—Mr. Heatheroe?" Katharine said dimly.

"Why yes, dear, your husband—come on from the east to see you, and finding an airplane and all, and swooping down the sky to rescue you, I declare, if it isn't just like the tales!" bubbled the nurse who enjoyed the films and had her favorite stars and cut their pictures out of the magazines.

Michael was here, then. Katharine had dreamed of him as she almost always did; and he was here somewhere—close enough so that she might reach out her hand and touch him.

"Mrs. Darragh ran after the girl, panting as she went. She was at her side as Katharine bent over the man crying in the tone of a lost soul. Oh, Michael, my darling, speak to me!"

"When he heard that the other man lifted his head and stared at the girl hungrily and a look of shame blotted out all the fury his blond face had been distorted with. He made a move toward Katharine, but Mrs. Darragh was before him. Michael had struggled to his feet. The girl awayed against him.

"He's not hurt a mite, dearie," crooned the old ranch woman pityingly. "You'll catch your breath in the night air. Come back to bed, dearie."

Michael lifted Katharine again, as he had earlier that day. In spite of his dizziness, he carried her safely to the house.

"Michael, darling, I didn't believe it was you. And then I heard the noise, and I looked out of the window..."

The nurse interrupted then. She was dreadfully upset, she said. To think that her patient... and she had only stepped out for a minute. You never knew where you were...

Michael and Katharine ignored the nurse. Michael was kneeling by the bed now. Katharine's head was resting on his arm.

"Darling, your poor face! Did he hurt you?"

He laughed at her.

"Darling," Katharine went on, "we seem to have such violent things happen to us. Do you think our lives will always be like this? Thunder and accidents and now fist fights..."

"Our lives!" She had actually said that. Without asking explanations or demanding excuses, she had admitted him to the inner court of her existence.

"I hope not, Katharine dear," His deep, strong, well-remembered voice.

"The gentleman will have to go now," trembled the nurse. "I have to take your temperature. Doctor will soon when he hears of this."

"You're so beautiful, Katharine," Michael said, numbly. It was as if the nurse did not exist. She stood there, scolding at her softly, and they did not hear her. Katharine, exhausted after her effort, was content to lie still, braced against Michael's arm.

"Am I?" It was heaven to be like this, together after all the heartbreak and exhaustion and the troubled dreaming. Later Michael could tell her why it had taken him so long to find her; he could explain the whole wretched weeks. For the present it was enough to lie there, her eyes on his lean face with its undeniable look of race about it, his lean brown hand gripping her own slim one.

The nurse, recovering herself at long last, spoke in tones of firmness not to be denied, and Michael went reluctantly away. He would see her in the morning...

Frank came up to him in the passage.

"I'm sorry," he said. "Didn't know how it was."

Michael wrung his hand, not seeing anything or hearing anything clearly Katharine was all right—she belonged to him! There was no other reality in the world.

But she was tired suddenly and closed her eyes again. There was so much that Michael had to explain before things could be straight. She couldn't bear to think of it now.

Once more she slept...

BEHIND the ranch house two young men faced each other angrily. Michael said, "So I'm a liar, eh?"

"You are," said Frank, almost affably. Now that there was immediate prospect of a conflict, he was enjoying himself. Fighting—any physical activity—was what he loved most. And he was furiously angry at this man.

There was the slap of sole-leather on the hard packed ground. There were the sounds of blows. Michael felt that Frank drove a terrific blow to his adversary's chin. Blood began to trickle in a little stream from the cut.

Mrs. Darragh came to the kitchen door and watched them a little fearfully. She was used to fighting. All the "boys" around her fought, early and often. But this was a little different. She sensed that.

"Dad, maybe you and Dossy better go and stop them," she said anxiously. Hobe Darragh grunted, packing the tobacco down into his pipe.

"Do 'em good," he grunted. "Get it out of their systems. Never saw woman trouble yet but could be settled that way."

Dad was smart, thought his wife proudly. He knew, straight off, this fight meant woman trouble. Nobody'd told him; still he knew. It was one of the things you felt in your bones. That young girl in the bedroom was sure a pretty piece of goods. Quality, all through. Mrs. Darragh had seen the pigskin case, packed with tortoise backed toilet tissues, that the Millards had brought in their car. It must have cost a small fortune. Still and all, even a high-toned girl like this had her love troubles. Two fighting over her, eh? Well, Mrs. Darragh had known the thrill of that, too, in her own tempestuous youth. She was gray now and fat and shapeless, but she hadn't forgotten.

She went back to the table with the blue and white checked cloth and sat down and tried to eat, but she couldn't, somehow. 'Twould be a pity if that young fellow who looked like Gary Cooper got all mused up, and his wife just coming to, like. Maybe she'd better do something about it...

She looked up and put her hand over her mouth to stifle an instinctive scream. Because the young lady who'd been lost in the desert was standing in the doorway. She had a blue robe on over her night things, and her feet were bare. She was staring out of the open door in a frightened way. In the light of the yard lanterns you could see the two wary figures moving to and fro.

Where was that datted nurse, thought Mrs. Darragh angrily. Moving as swiftly as her bulk would allow toward the slim figure. But the girl was quicker for all her weakness. Katharine was at the door in an instant and one of the battling men saw her. He turned and the other closed in, delivering a body blow and the man who had looked at the girl went down like a stone.

Mrs. Darragh ran after the girl, panting as she went. She was at her side as Katharine bent over the man crying in the tone of a lost soul. Oh, Michael, my darling, speak to me!"

"When he heard that the other man lifted his head and stared at the girl hungrily and a look of shame blotted out all the fury his blond face had been distorted with. He made a move toward Katharine, but Mrs. Darragh was before him. Michael had struggled to his feet. The girl awayed against him.

"He's not hurt a mite, dearie," crooned the old ranch woman pityingly. "You'll catch your breath in the night air. Come back to bed, dearie."

Michael lifted Katharine again, as he had earlier that day. In spite of his dizziness, he carried her safely to the house.

"Michael, darling, I didn't believe it was you. And then I heard the noise, and I looked out of the window..."

The nurse interrupted then. She was dreadfully upset, she said. To think that her patient... and she had only stepped out for a minute. You never knew where you were...

Michael and Katharine ignored the nurse. Michael was kneeling by the bed now. Katharine's head was resting on his arm.

"Darling, your poor face! Did he hurt you?"

He laughed at her.

"Darling," Katharine went on, "we seem to have such violent things happen to us. Do you think our lives will always be like this? Thunder

Eichlers Whittle Away Browns' Softball Lead, Capture 5-4 Victory

Postponed Tilt Is Played Off; Winks Fail To Come

"Pony" Underwood's run in the seventh inning last night gave the Eichlers a 5 to 4 victory over the Browns advancing them to a position just a shade below first place, in the City softball league. The Browns now have won seven and lost two, and the Eichlers boast six victories in eight starts. The game between the two was a postponed tilt.

The Winks Specials billed to meet the Reynolds Wires in the second encounter failed to appear and an exhibition game between the Wires and the Browns was held instead.

In the Eichlers-Browns contest the winners grabbed a four to 0 lead in the fourth inning scoring a run in the third and three in a fourth stanza batting spree. In the third frame, Henry fouled out, and Underwood singled. He was tagged on second however when Grove was allowed base on fielder's choice. Burke was issued a pass, and Belows then singled, driving home Grove, but was left stranded himself.

Costly Errors
In the fourth inning costly errors by Cook and Shires Miller after two Eichlers men had been retired, allowed Morris and Withers on the bases to race home. In the fifth inning, Belows clouted a triple.

The Shoemen scored their quartet of runs in the fifth and sixth, a hit in each frame. Downs doubled, allying Wolford and Dempewolf, and in the sixth Slain and Kuhn, both hitting their way on to the bases were scored by Miller's two-run homer on the paths was his third hit in as many trips to the plate for a perfect batting average.

Panthers Lose But Wolford Is Batting Flash

Cundy, Van Petten's alert second bagger, labelled a home run out of the park to give the invaders an 8 to 7 baseball victory over the Dixon Panthers, Sunday afternoon at Reynolds park here, in a 12-inning struggle.

Wolford's accounted for five of the Panthers' runs. In the fourth he stepped to bat with James Burke aboard and slammed a homer. Walls was responsible for another homer in the sixth but Miller's agile fielding limited him to a triple. Wolford doubled in his next trip to the plate, but knocked a home run in the seventh sending home two runs ahead of him, and gained a leading role among the Panther batsmen. He now boasts fifteen hits in twenty-nine times at bat for a .517 average. Walls has hit 13 times safely in 45 tries and has a .400 percentage.

Lack of control was responsible for the defeat of the Panthers. Whitebread being charged with the loss. The contest was the locals' first home game of the season.

Joliet Nine Will Play Independents On Fourth of July

Joliet will be the opposition of the Dixon Independents baseball nine, Thursday, July 4, at the Airport diamond in the first of two games to be played by the locals this week. The Chicago Red Horse team will make its second invasion of Dixon territory, Sunday, July 7, and the winner of the latter game will take charge of the gate receipts.

INDEPENDENTS BEAT OLD BOYS SUNDAY, 6 TO 3

Old Timers Make a Double Play, Get Five Blows

An abbreviated contest of seven innings proved enough for the Dixon Old Timers against the Independents, Sunday afternoon at the Airport diamond, and the latter won a 6 to 3 triumph.

The Old Boys unlimbered their creaking joints enough to wheeze home with two runs in the third, however, and added another lonely tally in the fifth inning. Years had not dimmed their eyes too much either while at bat, and they counted five good hits.

The Old Timers displayed an unusual bit of agility in the field in the third frame. Rink was given a free ticket to first, and Paddy McDonald rapped a hard one at Pitcher McIntyre playing for the Old Timers. McIntyre whirled around and through a quick assist to Hi Emmert on second and Hi threw it to Paddy's brother on first for a double put out.

Make Double Play
The Independents completed a double play of their own before the contest was half an inning old. Smokey Joe Miller playing short instead of his customary post on the mound threw a quick assist to Kays who pegged it to Shires Miller on first to retire Bob Evans and Hi Emmert. Dashbach fled out to McConaughy in left field and the score was retired.

Four runs in the fifth frame sewed up the ball game for the Independents. Windmiller led off with a single and McConaughy was given free transportation. Joe Miller doubled, scoring Windy and Mac, and after Dashbach and Rink had been put out, Paddy singled and scored when Lebre reached base on an error. In the fifth, Don Evans made a home run for the Old Boys on an error by McConaughy in left field who bobbed the fly and stumbling over a hidden object fell head over heels in the grass.

S-BALL RACE IS GROWING CLOSE AS JULY BEGINS

Browns, Eichlers Run Neck and Neck Race For Top Place

Buster Browns continue to lead the City softball league parade as the first week in July opens, but are at present hard pressed by the Eichler Clothiers, after losing two games.

The Clothiers boosted their prestige a notch by defeating the Browns Sunday night. Earlier in the week, the Knacks Leaders humbled the Winks Specials and the Reynolds Wires downed the D-X Oils when Adolf fanned eight men.

The schedule for the week is:

Monday
7:30 P. M.—Buster Browns vs Knacks.
9 P. M.—Reynolds Wires vs Borden.

Tuesday
7:30 P. M.—Youngmarks D-X Oils vs Winks.
9 P. M.—Millway Hatchery vs Borden.

Wednesday
7:30 P. M.—Winks vs Buster Browns.
9 P. M.—Reynolds vs Eichlers.

Thursday

GIANTS BOOST LEAGUE LEAD; PIRATES WIN

Enviably Place Is Held By New York in National

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr. (Associated Press Sports Writer)

The New York Giants have achieved a position in the National League pennant race that is probably turned their rivals and a quarter of contenders in the other circuit bright green with envy.

With mid-season approaching, the Giants have built their lead up to 8½ games and, having repulsed the challenges of their leading rivals in the last couple of weeks, can sit back and watch the other contenders knock one another off with considerable regularity. In contrast, the first three American League clubs are grouped in a space of 3½ games.

While the Giants were taking two tough ones from the Brooklyn Dodgers yesterday, 7 to 4 and 5 to 4, Pittsburgh's Pirates climbed back to second place, pushing Chicago down to third and the world champion Cardinals to fourth.

17 Hit Assault

The Giants got the benefit of a 17-hit assault on four Brooklyn pitchers in the opener and of six-hit flinging by Hal Schumacher, who won his ninth straight game, in the afterpiece. Mel Ott helped by belting a homer in each game to bring his season's total to 16. The Pirates, held to one run in three previous games, slammed out a 9 to 7 victory over the Cubs with another 17-swat attack.

The great Dizzy Dean was thoroughly out-pitched by little Tony Freitas of Cincinnati, who gave the Cards only four hits as the Reds beat them for the third straight time, 5 to 2.

Both Cleveland and Detroit sliced into the Yankees' American League lead, the Tigers going on a hitting rampage to make the biggest inroads with a double victory over St. Louis. The scores were 18 to 1 and 11 to 6 as the Tigers made 19 hits in each game. The Indians split a doubleheader with the White Sox, winning 3 to 2 behind Monte Pearson's six-hit flinging, then taking an 8 to 0 shutout. Vernon Kennedy gave only seven blows while the Hose hammered Mel Harder into

ROCKFORD SOPH WINS AMATEUR LINKS HONORS

Is Youngest Golfer To Win Tourney, Soph at Illinois "U"

Rockford, Ill., July 1.—(AP)—Johnny Hobart, Rockford, University of Illinois sophomore and an unknown in Illinois golfing circles, today stood at the head of the state amateur brigade.

The youngest golfer to win the championship in the five year history of the tournament, Hobart yesterday crushed James Garard, Skokie Country club, Chicago, in an amazing display of putting precision. His triumph returned the title downstate for the second consecutive year; Larry Moller of Quincy was the unsuccessful defender of the championship.

To gain the honor, Hobart was forced to conquer five Chicago linksmen in the three days of match play. Before Garard fell his victim in the finals, the youthful champion had eliminated Dick Martin, Brier Hill; Larry Witt, Midlothian; Al Andreggen, Big Oaks; and C. R. Wilson, Westward Ho.

Garard, strictly an amateur who takes most of his golf on weekends, found the strain of tournament play too exacting and faltered badly in the morning session of the 36-hole final match and as the pair started on the afternoon 18, Hobart held an 8-up advantage. Garard, rallying in the face of almost certain defeat, won four holes on the out nine, while losing two and halving three.

Halved Four Holes
Making the turn six up, Hobart held the belated challenge in check by halving the next four holes, to win on the 31st green.

Hobart, after playing the par 5 first hole in four strokes, held strictly to par figures on the out nine of the morning round. Meanwhile Garard was having trouble with the traps of the rolling Rockford Country club course and dropped four strokes to the perfect figures.

Coming in, Hobart again bettered par by one stroke, shooting a birdie, 3 on the 11th hole to finish the morning round with a 35-34-60. Garard matched Hobart's birdie on the 11th but lost the 10th, 13th, 14th, and 17th holes while Hobart was matching par.

On the first nine of the afternoon play, Hobart went five over par, taking a 40 while Garard was carding a 38, and cutting his disadvantage to six down.
